Argentina pricing dispute will jeopardise network investment – TGS

Plans by Argentinian transporter Transportadora de Gas del Sur (TGS) to invest ARS 790 million (USD 53 million) in its transmission network this year could be in doubt, the company told Gas Matters Today on Tuesday, following a court ruling that blocked suppliers from imposing price hikes on customers.

TGS, Argentina's biggest midstream company, claims it is owed ARS 205 million (USD 14 million) by four gas distributors who have refused to pay the raised regulated price.
