IGas shale licences in UK could hold 11 Tcf

UK shale developer IGas may hold up to 11 Tcf (312 Bcm) of unconventional gas in its central and northern England licenses, Texas consultancy DeGolyer and MacNaughton (D&M) estimated in a report this week.

IGas's East Midlands and North West licenses had 102 Tcf of gas in place, with 11 Tcf of unrisks prospective resource, the report commissioned by London-based IGas said.
