Total strengthens Algerian ties and ‘settles differences’ with Sonatrach

Total and Algeria’s state-owned energy company Sonatrach have signed an agreement to strengthen ties in upstream projects in Algeria and amicably settle “outstanding differences between the two companies”, the French major said this week.

The agreement covers progressing new upstream projects, with notable highlights including a new contractual framework for the Timimoun gas project and a new agreement for joint operations in the Tin Fouye Tabankort (TFT) gas field.
