Lukoil ramps up Gissar fields as Uzbekistan pushes for gas growth on all fronts

Russia's Lukoil has launched the main gas production and processing facility at its South-West Gissar project in Uzbekistan's hydrocarbons-rich south-western Bukhara province.

The project is part of Uzbekistan's wider efforts to grow domestic gas production to help maintain pipeline export volumes while also diversifying into gas-to-liquids.

Production from the 37 wells in the Gissar fields cluster has now achieved ...
