Statoil makes first foray into solar as IEA forecasts record global PV growth to 2022

Statoil has become the latest NOC to jump into the world of utility-scale solar by snapping up a 40% stake in the "construction ready" 162MW Apodi solar plant in north-east Brazil – in the same week the International Energy Agency predicted record PV growth globally out to 2022.

The Norwegian major signed a joint venture (JV) with ...
