Gas Matters Today – Energy markets pricewatch (13 July 2015)

Brent was trading down on Monday, while gas on the UK's NBP hub was rising, amid a stronger US dollar and an increasing likelihood that more oil supply could come to the global market if Iran and the P5+1 group agree a deal.

The Euro rallied against the US dollar early on Monday on news that the bloc would issue another bailout package to Greece, but direction had changed by the time of writing, leaving the Euro heading for a four-day low.
