For Yiyong He, founder and CEO of Singapore-based “retail LNG enabler” LNG Easy, having a background outside LNG offered the opportunity to approach the business objectively, while also presenting the challenge to come up with unique services for it. Founded in 2016, LNG Easy became the first company to export LNG by road from Singapore to Malaysia and designed and built the world’s first mobile filling platform (MFP) to receive and break bulk LNG. Inspired by the sector’s phenomenal growth in China, LNG Easy is now focusing on rolling out retail LNG solutions in Pakistan, while also developing LNG transshipment hubs in key maritime locations.
