European gas prices fell further on Monday as fears of Russia cutting supply to Europe eased, with warmer weather also providing downward pressure.

The May-dated TTF and NBP contracts closed 2.8% and 5.1% lower respectively to start the week. The Dutch marker settled at the equivalent of USD 35.29/MMBtu, with the UK gas benchmark closing at the equivalent of USD 32.01/MMBtu.

Prices dipped as concerns over Russian gas supplies eased amid robust flows from Europe's largest gas supplier. Warmer and windy weather also weighed on gas prices, with 26.7% of Europe's electricity supplied by wind power generation on Monday, up from 16.5% on Sunday, according to WindEurope.

Across the pond, US gas benchmark Henry Hub recorded a minor loss, closing 0.1% lower at USD 5.71/MMBtu.

Asian LNG marker JKM continued to fall, closing 5% lower at USD 32.95/MMBtu.

Oil prices staged a recovery on Monday amid reports suggesting Europe is weighing up further sanctions against Russia.

The front-month Brent and WTI contracts settled 3% and 4% higher respectively on Monday, with the former closing at USD 107.53/barrel and the US crude benchmark closing at USD 103.28/barrel.
